

NEWLY ESTABLISHED Volunteer Reception Center (VRC)

Official Volunteer Coordination for Uvalde County Flood Recovery

Local city and county governments, in coordination with the Texas Department of Emergency Management (TDEM), have established the Volunteer Reception Center (VRC) as the official location for coordinating volunteer efforts supporting flood recovery across Uvalde County.

WHY THE VRC MATTERS

The VRC helps coordinate volunteer efforts safely and effectively by:

- ✓ Matching volunteers to current community needs
- ✓ Helping organizations receive the support they need
- ✓ Reduce duplication of services
- ✓ Improving safety, accountability, and coordination
- ✓ Collectively tracking community volunteer hours for important in-kind documentation

FOR ORGANIZATIONS & COMMUNITY GROUPS

If your church, nonprofit, civic group, neighborhood team, or other volunteer effort is already helping, please register your volunteers through the VRC. The VRC can help document existing volunteer efforts and coordinate additional volunteer assignments where needed.

Partner with the VRC to organize volunteers and request support

FOR INDIVIDUALS WHO WANT TO VOLUNTEER

Individuals who want to help are encouraged to register through the VRC to receive information and be assigned where help is needed most.

Register with the VRC to volunteer and be assigned to help.

Tracking volunteer efforts is incredibly important.

Documented community volunteer hours may support important in-kind documentation and applicable local match funding for FEMA assistance.

ONE UVALDE COUNTY. ONE COORDINATED EFFORT. SERVING OUR NEIGHBORS TOGETHER.
